

CONNECTIONS

Holiday Greetings from Our Executive Director

As we approach the holiday season, our hearts turn to family and thoughts of seasons past and hopes of a positive future and brighter economy.

We anticipate that 2011 will continue to bring good health and well-being to Maryland Community Connection and the individuals we serve. The support we have received over the years has made it possible for Maryland Community Connection to help individuals with developmental disabilities achieve their goals.

Their personal success stories are compelling because of the services MCC provides. MCC continues to advocate for individuals with developmental disabilities to:

- Work and live independently, because isn't that what all adults want.
- Have the freedom to make choices.
- Feel involved in the community.
- Have the freedom to build their schedule and their own lives.

Through our continued fostering of partnerships between individuals, employers, and the community, Maryland Community Connection is on track to create successful outcomes. Through our collaboration, we will continue to enable individuals with developmental disabilities to make great strides.

Maryland Community Connection's Board of Directors, staff, and volunteers work to increase opportunities for individuals with developmental disabilities in the community. Thank you for all you do to help us promote the independence of individuals with developmental disabilities of all ages.

Maryland Community Connection believes that for people we support live lives that make sense to them, we must continue to invest time and effort into developing partnerships between all key stakeholders in that person's life. People with developmental disabilities must be given the opportunities for choices. Families must feel empowered and included. Our staff of direct care support professionals must be valued, appreciated, and listened to. Our administration will continue to set the vision and provide the necessary support and encouragement for all of this to happen.

We at Maryland Community Connection would like to wish you and yours a happy holiday season and peace in the New Year.

Sincerely,

Andri Burno Coates

LISS Department Making a Difference in the Community

With another quarter finished, the Maryland Community Connection's Low Intensity Support Services department under the direction of Aisha Ferguson continues to service the community and affect the lives of so many in our community. The cards, phone calls, and e-mails that pour in from families continue to be the motivation behind what we do.

The services provided by LISS did not go unnoticed by our participants and they continue to sing our praises. One family let MCC know that while going through a rough point financially and facing eviction, they found not only assistance but also respect when they contacted MCC's LISS Department.

“Even after the rent was paid, Ms. Ferguson telephoned for days to ensure we were alright.”

In addition to servicing the families through LISS funding, the LISS department also worked hard, reaching out to vendors, to maintain the service on all ends. The staff goes a step further and works with vendors to monitor the process from start to finish.

Since the LISS program began, MCC has worked with over 1,500 families. Our goal is to assist as many other families as possible! Knowing that our job goes way beyond writing checks, MCC has spent numerous hours looking for alternative resources to ensure that when the next funding year begins more individuals and families will be serviced.

“Since the LISS program began in 2009, Maryland Community Connection successful assisted over 1,500 families!”

The overall LISS process was created to be simple and stress free for families seeking funding and resources. As part of our outreach, MCC continues to provide LISS information sessions in each of the five counties. When families are educated on the LISS process, the team is able to quickly process request forms and provide families with the information needed in a timely manner.

To apply for LISS assistance, you must have (1) a completed LISS request form, (2) proof of disability, (3) a copy of the individuals' social security card, (4) proof of Maryland residency, and (5) an invoice for services request and then MCC can start processing your request.

The LISS application process takes up to 10 business days. During that time, the team is researching other available resources through government or private programs.

MCC goal is to continue providing assistance for individuals with developmental disabilities to improve their quality of life, to remain in their own homes, to increase or maintain independence and to participate in the community by providing resources and financial assistance.

Maryland Community Connection will begin accepting applications for LISS on January 1, 2011. For more LISS information, please call 301-583-8880 or 877-622-6688 or visit: www.ddamaryland.org

Maryland Community Connection Enters 9th Year and Celebrates Anniversary!

Maryland Community Connection is proud to celebrate its 9th year anniversary! Created in November 27, 2001 by Andre' Burno Coates and Kimblyn Snyder, both who have family members with developmental disabilities. They continue both personally and professionally to honor their commitment to help individuals with developmental disabilities succeed.

Maryland Community Connection is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization and was established with the mission of helping individuals with developmental disabilities achieve their goals by obtaining a greater degree of social and economic independence.

MCC's participants are involved in many of our programs and receive services such as Supported Employment (SE), Family Individual Support Services (FISS), Community Supported Living Arrangements (CSLA) and Low Intensity Support Services (LISS).

We have accomplished much this year, such as being named Provider of the Year by Maryland Works in recognition of achieving significant outcomes in the employment of individuals with developmental disabilities through our Supported Employment Program. Receiving this prestigious award is a testament of everything we do to make a difference in the lives we touch. Without the help of our staff and volunteers, the work we do could not be possible.

Maryland Community Connection is thankful for those who take advantage of the opportunity to make a difference on the job and in the lives of others. When deciding how to make a difference in the lives of others, we hope that you will consider Maryland Community Connection. We at Maryland Community Connection remain committed to the mission of helping individuals with developmental disabilities achieve their goals.

Employers Recognized for National Disability Employment Awareness Month

In October, Maryland Community Connection observed National Disability Employment Awareness Month. The theme for Disability Awareness Month, October 2010 was "Talent Has No Boundaries!" This theme was chosen to show the public that workers with disabilities have valuable skills and talents that are and can be used in the workplace. Maryland Community Connection could not agree more.

In 1988, Congress enacted a law declaring October "National Disability Employment Awareness Month". The recognition for the month enhances public awareness of those with disabilities and encourages their full integration into the workforce.

On Friday, October 1, 2010 from 7:30 am - 9:30 am, Employers joined Maryland Community Connection for a celebratory breakfast honoring the employers that recognize the added value, efforts and contributions made by individuals with disabilities in the workforce.

Employers in attendance were appreciative of the lavish breakfast buffet, prepared by Maryland Community Connection staff. A special thanks goes to André Coates, Kimblyn Snyder, and Angela Graham.

Maryland Community Connection is thankful for employers throughout the community for providing such a great and rewarding opportunities for our participants.

Maryland Community Connection participants are eager to work in a thriving environment and for the chance to be productive employees and become taxpayers. MCC Staff Participates in 2010 Nonprofit Incubator Program sponsored by Human Services Coalition of Prince George's County Staff development and training is important at Maryland Community Connection and is viewed as the key to operating as a successful agency. The 2010 Nonprofit Incubator Program (NIP) sponsored by the Human Services Coalition of Prince George's County was attended by André Coates, Robyn Floyd, Angela Graham, Omobola Ladega, Kimbly Snyder, and Larry Williams.

The Nonprofit Incubator Program was created in 2001 and is dedicated to the development of new programs and services which will provide organizations with the capacity and sustainability of nonprofits in Prince George's County. The trainings provided a great opportunity for team building and networking for human services professionals who participated.

"I found the training to be very informative, the main theme throughout the training was communication which is important", said Larry Williams, Employment Specialist.

The Staff Development Training sessions for this year covered "Vision, Mission & Purpose - Leaders on the Horizon", "Team Building and Staff Collaboration", "Professionalism in the Workplace", "Planning, Management and Execution", "Customer and Quality Support" and "Conducting Effective Presentations".

Created as a skill building therapy program for organizations, the Nonprofit Incubator Program developed processes to meet the needs of organizations which will enable them to meet human services needs of low-income citizens and measures the needs of organizations in the community.

The NIP also engages the nonprofit community to become knowledgeable about policies from government officials that can effect the nonprofit community's support and sustainability in Prince George's County. Omobola Ladega, Employment and Community Specialist said the training, "was effective on helping service providers become a leader and helped me to learn how to work with different personalities."

The Human Services Coalition of Prince George's County uses several departments as focal points when training organizations: organizational development, leadership development, program development and community engagement. The Human Services Coalition was created with a mission to help Prince George's County non profit agencies thrive and be vibrant excellent human services organizations.
